1LT Usomba is a fine young officer whose duty performance consistently exceeded the norm. That he managed to do so well in such a multifaceted position is testimony to his versatility and adaptability. That he did so in spite of having only one year of active duty experience including IOBC and Airborne School is tribute to his ability to acquire new knowledge. He is a bright, intellectually active, and enthusiastic officer who is totally committed to continually developing and improving his professional expertise and to doing the very best job he can. Under his supervision the unit dining facility and supply room have received several outstanding performance awards. In addition, during the most recent command inspection, not a single major deficiency was found in any of the functional or additional duty areas for which he is responsible. He is a tireless worker who, given minimum mission type guidance, attacks each task and persists until the job is done to standard. With greater duty experience, 1LT Usomba's technical expertise, attention to detail, and professional judgement will undoubtedly expand to match his other considerable talents. He will develop into an outstanding asset to the officer corps.

1LT Usomba is a very conscientious and dedicated young officer. He will be a real contributor throughout his career. He has the potential to go to very high levels of responsibility in command or staff areas. He learns quickly, responds well to guidance. He is not satisfied with anything less than a superior performance. At this point he needs only to gain experience and maturity. I have no doubt that he will become a strong, successful leader and a real asset to the Officer Corps. He has demonstrated persistence and skill in accomplishing all assigned tasks as a company XO and as a battalion special projects officer.
